

Super Heros

Description

A great Pimping game. 4 players. First player gets from the audience a silly little problem, like My Shoelaces are Untied, and a simple object, say a kitchen cabinet. First player starts a scene in which the Problem arises, and his character is unable to fix the problem. Hence she calls in (explicitly) the help of e.g. Kitchen Cabinet Woman. This is a Super Hero, like Superman, Wonder Woman, you know that kind of cartoon-character heros types.

Our Super Hero comes in with lots of brou-haha (high Status) only to make the problem worse (and a status switch to low status). So our hero calls in the help of yet another Super Hero. Use whatever you can think of first. Say Toothpaste Man. Again, this hero comes in high status, screws up even more, does a status switch and calls in yet another hero, who finally fixes the problem.

The game is really pimping folks into playing outrageous superheroes. The status switch from high to low after screwing up is pretty important too here.

Notes

We originally listed this game as "Supermen" - obviously women can be as heroic as men so we changed the name to more neutral "Heroes".
